U. S. Transport Plane With 14 Aboard Lost Near Formosa

Vanishes In Flight To Hong Kong

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 6 (AP)—A big U. S. transport plane with 14 aboard vanished today and it was feared it had crashed into cloud-shrouded mountains of southern Formosa.

The plane, a four-engine C54 bound for Hong Kong from Okinawa, was last heard from this morning in the vicinity of Hengchun, on the southern tip of Formosa.

When the plane failed to appear at Hong Kong this afternoon, a giant air and sea search was launched.

At 10:05 a.m. the air traffic control center at Hengchun received a message from the plane saying it would pass over in about a half hour.

The control told the transport plane to keep at an altitude of 8,500 feet. At 10:22 the plane requested an altimeter setting. This was given. It was the last heard from the plane.

U. S. and Nationalist planes began a wide search of the mountains, but they were hampered by dense clouds.

The plane left Okinawa, the big U. S. air base south of Japan, at 8:06 a.m.

It was due at 1:30 p.m. in Hong Kong with an airplane engine to replace one on another U. S. Air Force plane stranded there. The latter plane had a narrow escape when a cylinder head blew out on a flight from Hong Kong to Manila.

A Far East Air Force spokesman in Tokyo said a check of Air Force records indicated 14 persons were aboard.

U. S. and British planes from Hong Kong joined in the search but concentrated their efforts in Formosa Strait.

Ike Hears Billy Graham

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham preached a sermon on faith on this rainy Sunday morning in Washington.

A solemn and attentive listener in his audience at the National Presbyterian Church was President Eisenhower.

His message finished, Graham walked down the center aisle to the pew where the President stood and the two men exchanged greetings.

Then the President and the tall young evangelist walked out the center aisle to the church door where photographers waited. Mrs. Eisenhower preceded them with the Rev. Edward L. R. Elson, minister of the church.

Graham's message was Acts 7:25—"Wherefore, sir, be of good cheer, for I believe that it shall be even as it was told me." These were the words of the apostle Paul in a storm-tossed ship.

"Today in the world there are storms," Graham said. "Storms of atheism, storms of militant materialism."

"There are storms in your personal life. Storms of temptation, storms of sorrow, storms of confusion, frustration and bewilderment sweeping your soul."

"Can you, in the midst of the storms in your life, say like the apostle Paul, 'I believe.'"

In his only allusion to current affairs, Graham said, "The problem we're wrestling with today is not communism, not the hydrogen bomb—it's human nature."

Today was Graham's last appearance before he leaves March 12 for a six weeks crusade in Scotland. He spoke at the 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. services at the church here. Ushers estimated 2,000 persons attended each service.

Blistery March Covers Nation

By The Associated Press
A BLISTERY March cold spell covered almost all sections of the nation Sunday. Only coastal areas in the West, Southeast, South and eastern New England escaped the unseasonable weather.

Throughout the East early afternoon temperatures were 15 to 30 degrees lower than those Saturday. Huntington, W. Va., recorded 36 degrees, a 38-degree drop in 24 hours. At Elkins, W. Va., the reading was down 37 degrees to a mark of 31.

GEN. CHARLES P. SUMMERALL, former Army Chief of Staff, is visited on his 88th birthday in Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., by seven-week-old great granddaughter, Margaret Polo Smith. Gen. Summerall has been a patient in the hospital since Aug. 17, 1954. He was commander of the Army depot at Tobyhanna for four years during pre-World War One days; was instrumental in establishing the camp as one of largest military installations in U. S. He's well remembered by Monroe County residents for years of service here as an Army Major.

Volcanic Eruption, Steam Blowout Threatens Work Of Hawaiian Relief Operation

PAHOA, Hawaii, March 6 (AP)—A reported volcanic eruption and a blowout of steam to the west today posed new threats to this nerve center of relief work on the burned and quake-riven east tip of Hawaii.

But earthquake tremors which had run through this town at a furious rate died down this morning, leading to hope that Pahoa might be spared.

Hundreds Flee Flood Near Ohio

HUNTINGDON, W. Va., March 6 (AP)—Hundreds of families, the largest number downriver at Cattsburg, Ky., were forced out of their homes tonight by the Ohio River flood.

But the Weather Bureau said crests predicted last night will not be exceeded and "the situation looks a little better." Dam 28, above Huntington, is expected to crest at 56.5 feet at 5 p.m. tomorrow. Flood level there is 50 feet.

Evacuation of families is in full swing at Cattsburg, where the Big Sandy and Ohio rivers meet. Mayor William A. Stewart said about 800 of the town's 4,700 residents will be forced out of their homes by the time the crest reaches there tomorrow night.

Virtually all of the business district will be covered by water.

The Ohio state highway patrol said today 491 homes and 98 businesses spanning 10 Ohio counties were evacuated by noon today.

The patrol said the river was falling east and north of Marietta, Ohio, but was rising up to 1-1/2 feet per hour from that point to the Cincinnati dam.

Weather officials here predicted the river cresting at 56.5 at 5 p.m. tomorrow at Proctorville across the river, where flood stage is 50 feet.

Warns On U. N.

PITTSBURGH, March 6 (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said today that, after 10 years in the United Nations, this country is faced with a constitutional issue as "explosive" as that which led to the Civil War.

Malenkov Now Appears To Be In Danger

NEW YORK, March 6 (AP)—Former Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov seems to be in serious danger. The outward signs suggest that the case against him is building up with great rapidity and that it is possible he may be charged with serious ideological heresy.

Malenkov now has been assailed by direct implication, though not yet by name, in the most important Russian newspaper—Pravda. He was condemned there by clear inference yesterday for expressing a view which Pravda said was "useful only to imperialist warmongers."

"Statements about the possibility of 'destruction of world civilization' in case the imperialists unleash a third world war are theoretically wrong and politically harmful," Pravda declared in a two-page article noting the second anniversary of the death of Malenkov's predecessor, Joseph Stalin.

Not quite a year ago—March 12, 1954—Malenkov declared in an election address that if a new world war breaks out "with modern weapons it means the ruin of world civilization."

Malenkov is the only ranking Soviet statesman ever to have expressed this view, although it has become rather a commonplace in the West. Others, including Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, always claimed a new world war would only lead to the destruction of "imperialism"—meaning the West. Molotov reiterated this statement Feb. 8, immediately after Malenkov's resignation as premier.

Pravda's attack on the Malenkov view of H-bomb and A-bomb warfare was signed by F. F. Konstantinov, a writer on ideological and party matters closely associated with the central committee's propaganda and agitation administration.

Commenting on the article, Associated Press correspondent Richard Kasichke, in a cable passed by the Moscow censor, wrote:

"This... raised a question of whether Malenkov eventually could be charged with aiding and abetting the cause of imperialist atomic warmongers with his statement that world civilization could be ruined by another war."

The fact that the Soviet censorship permitted this suggestion of a possible Malenkov treason trial seemed to be significant, boding little good for Malenkov's future. In the past, Moscow censors diligently barred any speculation by Western correspondents about members of the government, and Malenkov is a minister and a deputy premier.

Nominees For Academy High

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—The Air Force has struggled through a last, final flood of applicants for its new air academy and now is ready for all 6,358 nominees for the 300 vacancies in the first class. Entrance examinations will be held March 12.

Spokesmen said today that about 2,500 nominations came showering down on the Air Force Academy appointments branch the last week the books were open.

Officials worked day and night for four days and finally struggled through the pile of papers, sorting out those whose applications showed they would be qualified to take the physical and educational examinations and scheduling them.

The nominees, in addition to meeting educational requirements, must go through medical tests in connection with flying training as well as Air Force aptitude and officer quality tests.

The college entrance examination board tests March 12 will be conducted for the Air Force by the Educational Testing Service, a Princeton, N.J., nonprofit organization of about 160 colleges, universities and other schools.

Morse Accuses

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Sen. Morse (R-Ore.) today accused the Justice Department of "lazy" prosecution methods in using "paid stooges" as witnesses and of asking Congress to legalize the use of evidence gathered by wiretapping.

Brownell Asks Congress To Revise Perjury Laws Making Falsehood Proof Rule Easier

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Apparently with Harvey Matusow and some other turnabout witnesses in mind, Atty. Gen. Brownell today asked Congress again to simplify the law dealing with perjury prosecutions.

Brownell said the change he proposed in no way would reduce the protection afforded defendants under present law, nor would it shift the burden of proof from the prosecution.

"It merely eliminates what appears to be a ridiculous requirement that proof be adduced as to which of two statements is false when one of such statements must, of necessity, be so," he said.

Under Brownell's proposed amendment, a conviction could be sought by showing that a witness wilfully contradicted himself on "material matters" while testifying under oath within a three-year period before U. S. courts, grand juries, or congressional committees.

As the law now stands, a prosecutor must prove on which occasion the witness was lying. And this must be done through two independent witnesses or at least one witness plus documentary evidence.

Brownell renewed his proposal after several government witnesses in recent weeks, including Matusow, swore they had lied under oath at previous trials and investigations.

While he mentioned no names, the attorney general obviously had these cases in mind when he appealed for early action in letters to Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Rayburn.

Knowland Doubts President Will Reveal '56 Intentions Before January of 1956

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today he doubts President Eisenhower will let Republicans know before January, 1956, whether he intends to run again.

The California State Republican Committee went on record recently asking Eisenhower to run again and offering him the support of its 70-vote delegation at next year's Francisco.

Because California law requires consent of a candidate before delegates can be pledged to him, the committee instructed Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to confer with the President about his plans.

Knowland, who is the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he does not expect any such conference to be held soon.

"I doubt that the President lets anybody know what his plans are before January 1956, at the earliest," Knowland said. He added that since California's primary does not come until June of that year, some other delegation may learn about the President's intentions first.

Eisenhower told reporters at last week's White House news conference he might be able to give them an answer in what he intends to do.

No Passengers

NEW YORK, March 6 (AP)—The 22,500-ton Queen of Bermuda sailed today without passengers after firing 300 striking crew members and classifying them as "deserters."

U. N. Israeli-Egyptian Armistice Group Condemns Israel For Prearranged Attack

GAZA, Egypt-held Palestine, March 6 (AP)—The U. N. Israeli-Egyptian Mixed Armistice Commission condemned Israel today for "brutal aggressions" in a "pre-arranged and planned attack" on Egyptian forces in the Gaza Strip last Monday night. Thirty-eight Egyptians and eight Israelis died in the clash.

The commission, meeting on the Egyptian-Israeli border, adopted an Egyptian resolution which said the attack "was committed by Israeli regular army forces against an Egyptian regular army force."

The resolution declared the attack constituted a violation of the general armistice agreement of 1949 which ended the Palestine war.

The commission's resolution was officially announced at headquarters of the U. N. truce supervision organization in Jerusalem. The announcement followed a disclosure to the same effect by Col. Salah Gohar, senior Egyptian delegate to the armistice commission.

The Gaza clash brought Egyptian-Israeli tension to the highest point since the Palestine war fighting ended.

Gohar said in his statement U. N. observers had told the armistice commission they found "no evidence" to support the Israeli claim.

ARROWS on the above map show where Egyptian troops are reported massing opposite Israel under Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's announced policy of being ready to meet force with force. Tension between the two Middle East countries boiled to a crisis with the border clash in the Gaza area (black), under control of Egypt, where 39 Egyptian and eight Israelis were killed.

AEC Declines Comment On Cheap Weapon

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission declined comment today on a published report that the United States had produced something new and relatively cheap in the thermonuclear weapons field, using unrefined uranium as a key material.

The report was that on March 1, 1954 in the Pacific tests, the United States exploded a "super-bomb" consisting of an H-bomb core—and an atomic bomb to trigger it—but that the outer jacket of the bomb consisted of "natural state uranium (U238)."

(Actually, uranium in its natural state consists of both U238 and U235, the latter being the type known to be usable in A-bombs. U238 is much more plentiful than U235—the ratio in nature being 140 parts of U238 to every one part of U235. But there has been no statement from official sources that U238 is fissionable to the extent that it could be used in a bomb.)

Many Trees Ordered For Local Farms

MORE THAN 120,000 trees have been ordered for the Delaware Forestry District—all to be planted on private lands. District Forester E. C. Pyle said applications must be in by April 1 to be considered for this Spring shipment from state nurseries.

Orders for 73,000 have been filed from Monroe County, 25,000 from Pike and 34,000 from Northampton.

Tree seedlings are available for reforestation purposes only and must be ordered in quantities of not less than 1,000 trees. Charges are $5.00 per 1,000 plus transportation.

Wildlife food shrubs are also available in minimum orders of 500 shrubs.

Most of forests here are lacking in evergreen growth which is so necessary for winter protection of all forms of wildlife. Evergreen lumber is also scarce so that these trees will serve a twofold purpose.

The best sites for such plantings are steep slopes unsuitable for agriculture. Most land owners have such lands available.

The trees still available include White and Red Pine, Spruce and White Spruce, Hemlock, Larch, Black Walnut and Sugar Maple.

Shrubs include Multiflora Rose, Arrow-wood, Tartarian Honeysuckle, Japanese Lespedeza.

Applications and information for trees and shrubs may be obtained from the Department of Forests and Waters, 1081 West Main St., Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania.

Blood Appeal Fails To Save Child's Life

NEW YORK, March 6 (AP)—Despite an immediate response to a nationwide television appeal last night for rare blood donors, the 11-year-old girl for whom the blood was sought died two hours later.

The appeal was made by Jackie Gleason in the closing minutes of his CBS comedy show. Almost immediately the switchboards at CBS and the hospital were flooded with offers. Many persons called police headquarters when they were unable to reach the hospital, the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center. More than 500 persons went directly to the hospital in the rain.

A hospital spokesman said, however, there was no shortage of the type blood for the little girl and that the Red Cross regional blood program had promised to supply all that was needed.

This was contradicted by television star Garry Moore who had called Gleason during his show and asked him to make the appeal.

Moore, a boyhood chum of the girl's father, William F. Rogers of Southbury, Conn., gave this account:

A mutual friend called him about 7 p.m. at his Rye, N.Y., home and told him "O" negative type blood was needed for little Angela Rogers. Angela had been ill for years with cystic fibrosis, her life frequently in danger. She was hemorrhaging badly following an operation Tuesday.

Moore got a pint of the rare blood (only 6 persons in 100 have this type) from a Port Chester hospital and raced into Manhattan to the hospital. There, he said, he consulted with the doctor and hospital officials, and was told more blood was needed but local supplies were exhausted. He then called the Gleason show and asked word be relayed to Gleason of the need for public donors.

Women Beat Obstacles In Many Ways

By Charles Mercer
NEW YORK, March 6 (AP)—Women overcame all sorts of difficulties and vanquished a variety of opposition nearly everywhere last week.

In Okemah, Okla., a 60-year-old slip of a woman knocked out a wolf—four-legged variety—with a hoe when she met him at her door.

In a Chicago court a fellow offered to give up whiskey if his wife would give up bingo. When she refused, a judge ordered him to go right on paying her temporary support pending outcome of her separate maintenance suit.

When a physician ordered a husband was constantly complaining she was too fat.

A London fan dancer reported sabotage of her camouflage. Some rogue loosened the rivets holding the ostrich feathers on her fans, leaving her in the altogether. Fortunately (for her) it happened at rehearsal.

Still in England, the lady of a knighted wealthy industrialist drove her gold-plated automobile into the Yorkshire mining town of Castleford and won the local women's marble championship.

Back in Los Angeles a 97-pound wife won a divorce because her

MORE PEOPLE BOUGHT FORD CARS IN 1954 than any other make!

Ford passenger-car sales to customers outnumbered those of any other make by thousands*

AND IT'S EASY TO SEE WHY!

Ford is the leader in styling

Motorists know that Ford has set the style trend in the industry for years. And now, with styling inspired by the fabulous Thunderbird, Ford is farther out front than ever!

Ford is the leader in V-8 power

Ford was first in its field (by 23 years) to provide the advantages of V-8 power. Since that time, Ford has built over 14,000,000 V-8 engines—more than all other makers combined! For 1955, Ford offers two new and mighty V-8's, as well as a most modern Six—all with the split-second response of Trigger-Torque power!

Ford is the leader in ride

Ford was first in its field to introduce Ball-Joint Front Suspension—the greatest advance in chassis design in 20 years. For '55, it's even better. Springs are set at an angle to smooth out even the tiniest bumps. It's the new Angle-Poised Ride.

Pike Co. Democratic Committee Endorses Dengler, Michaels

Ask Leader To Appoint For Parkway

MILFORD — Gov. George Leader has been urged by the Pike County Democratic party chairman to appoint two Monroe County men to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

The appointments would be on a "non-partisan" basis, Mrs. Mary M. Lilley told Leader in a letter recently. Both men were previously given interim appointments to the commission by outgoing Gov. John Fine.

Supported for continued appointment by Mrs. Lilley are Frank B. Michaels, Stroudsburg and R. LeRoy Dengler, Mount Pocono. Michaels is a Democrat. Dengler is a Republican.

In her letter to Leader, Mrs. Lilley pointed out that the two men were given temporary appointments in November of last year.

"We understand these two individuals just named were actually sworn in in order to assume the duty of their appointments," Mrs. Lilley's letter said. "However, we also understand that all interim appointments were withdrawn by you once you became governor."

"Both of these gentlemen have worked over a long period of time to complete (the Pocono Memorial Parkway) project. . . . They are both competent and familiar with the history of the project and the problems involved," the letter continued.

"We believe the project will be of benefit to the Commonwealth and, more particularly, to the counties surrounding. . . . Monroe, Pike and Northampton. It may possibly alleviate some of the unemployment conditions existing in the coal regions because the counties in question are near Carbon County and Schuylkill County."

"In any event, I have discussed this problem with leading Democrats of this county and with some members of the Committee. They all highly recommend the project and suggest the appointment of Mr. Michaels and Mr. Dengler," the letter concluded.

Charge To Follow Crash In Borough

STROUDSBURG police yesterday said they will charge a young motorist with a traffic violation, following an accident in which a woman was injured.

The two-car crash occurred at 11:30 p. m. Saturday at Seventh and Ann Sts., police said, when Robert K. Dyson, 17, Stroudsburg RD 2, was driving west on Ann St. with his wife, June, and baby, April, as passengers, police said.

Police said Dyson told them he failed to stop at the blinker, then saw the south-bound car of Rudolph Davidge, 27, Portland, moving into the intersection.

Dyson tried to accelerate to get across the intersection in time, police said, but instead was struck. In the right side by the Davidge auto, authorities reported.

Dyson's car was swung around and knocked backward, police said, with such force that it mounted the sidewalk—still backward—and came to rest in front of the borough Post Office.

Davidge's car also swung around by the impact, police said. Damages were $350 to his car and $125 to Dyson's.

Davidge's wife, Jane, 25, suffered a left leg injury but said she did not wish to have it checked at the hospital.

Police said they will charge Dyson with failing to stop at a red blinker signal.

Chemical Firemen Hear Judge Rhodes On Washington's Life

THE ANNUAL LADIES' night party of Chemical Co., No. 1, Stroudsburg Fire Dept., was held at the Elks Club Saturday night with about 75 members and their ladies in attendance.

The night's program opened with a dinner with choice of steak and lobster. Favors of rope-head necklaces were given the ladies.

Elmer J. Walton, president, filled the role emcee and Chester H. Rhodes, president judge of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, was guest speaker. The invocation was given by A. F. Everitt, secretary of the company.

Greetings were given by Millard A. Marsh, member of the company and chief of the Stroudsburg Fire Dept. The officers of the company and surviving charter members were presented.

The charter members were Walton, J. C. Shafer and Howard S. Abel, former chief of the department, and A. F. Everitt, who has served as secretary since the formation of the company in 1909.

Judge Rhodes spoke particularly of the life of George Washington, whose birthday was celebrated Feb. 22. The speaker expressed his pleasure at meeting with the firemen and their ladies.

The speaker based his remarks on the value of heredity and environment in life and then went into detail of the various stages of the life of Washington and his family relations.

The early history of the State of Virginia was traced with lack of educational facilities. Tobacco was the main source of income. So much so was this a fact that agriculture was practically ruined.

Washington originally "desired to become a large landowner and accumulated 60,000 acres of land, covering several states. However, this didn't improve his economic standing with the result he was compelled to borrow 600 pounds Sterling to cover the expense of his inauguration. Judge Rhodes brought out many interesting facts connected with the life of Washington.

The arrangements were in charge of the house committee: Archie S. Rundle, chairman; Chester Gross and Harvey E. Hay Jr. All were thanked for the success of their efforts.

The balance of the program included dancing in the lodge room, music being furnished by Ernie Bittenbender and his orchestra.

Thirteen Injured, Eight Cars Damaged In Crashes

TOBYHANNA—Ice roads resulted in three crashes, damage to eight cars and injury to 13 people near here yesterday. All the wrecks occurred about two miles north of here on Route 611.

Most serious was at 2:15 p.m., said Mount Pocono troopers, when the northbound car of Geraldine Faltynowicz, 17, Scranton, skidded across the highway into the southbound auto of Nicholas Hannas, 41, Archbald.

The car of John Marrazzo, 34, Levittown, Pa., hit the rear of the Hannas car, then was in turn struck by the auto of Stanley A. Agaard, 22, Fairlawn, N. J. troopers said.

The injured: Marrazzo, cuts and bruises; his wife, Madeline, head, arm and chest cuts and bruises; Geraldine Faltynowicz, multiple cuts and possible concussion; her sister, Bernice, 19, multiple cuts, broken ribs; her mother, Mrs. Stella Faltynowicz, 40, dislocated left hip, eyebrow cuts. All injured were taken to General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, where their condition was reported "fairly good" late last night. Damages totalled $2,150, police said, with the Faltynowicz and Marrazzo, cars demolished.

In a 1 p.m. accident at the spot the car driven by Clarence W. Echols, 20, Atlanta, Ga., a Fort Dix soldier, slid across the road into an embankment. The car

Joint Resort Promotions To Be Studied

JOINT promotion by several resort associations will be discussed at a meeting of Top of the Poconos Association at High Point Inn Tuesday.

The 8 p. m. session will be conducted by John Crandall of Pocono Manor, association president.

All resort operators in the area are invited, even if not members of the association.

Crandall will outline a proposal under which the association, Poconos Vacation Bureau and Eastern Poconos Resort Association would combine their efforts to attract more tourists and vacationers to the Poconos.

All Take, No Give

The first critical test for the Leader Administration and the Pennsylvania General Assembly is not far off.

It will come when our new Democratic Chief Executive sends his budget to a Legislature in which the Republicans hold the balance of power in one branch. That will be in "four or five weeks—let's hope early in April," Governor Leader said recently.

With somewhere in the neighborhood of $400 million to be raised in new taxes and with widely divergent views on how it should be done, the political fur is sure to fly. There are many who see such a conflict resulting that in the months to come there even may be talk of getting the Legislature home for Christmas. It wasn't quite that bad two years or four years ago, when the last budgets were hammered out, but it was bad enough.

Before it starts, both our Democratic Governor and our Republican-Democratic Legislature should take a look at neighboring New York State for an object lesson on how not to go about it.

The political situation there is somewhat comparable to ours. New York has a Democratic Governor and a Republican-controlled Assembly. Governor Harriman is reported "steaming" with anger, and where Republican legislators are concerned, the feeling is mutual.

For his part, Governor Harriman started out with a call for a sweeping 50 per cent gasoline tax boost, stirred up a storm, then backed down. By his statements and early actions, Harriman is giving some credence to the many accusations that he deliberately jacked up all of his requests, knowing they would be cut down, so he could point a finger of blame on subsequent shortcomings and mistakes.

For their part, Republican assemblymen have assumed from the beginning that they wouldn't touch Harriman's proposal with a 10-foot pole. They had ready and have unveiled what amounts, for all practical purposes, to a completely different budget of their own. And they're insisting upon it.

Obviously, the Democratic Governor and the Republican Assembly eventually are going to have to compose their differences—but the name-calling and politics-playing already have made this compromise immeasurably more difficult to attain.

Back here in Pennsylvania, Governor Leader has been playing it far too cagey, it seems to us, on his taxing and spending plans. We suggest to him that he begin taking the Legislature leaders, Republicans and well as his own Democrats, into his confidence. If he attempts to spring his entire proposed budget, from A to Z, in one surprise package, he can't help but stir up a storm—and be in trouble.

We suggest to the Republican legislators, and especially their Senate leadership, that they start to overcome their obvious suspicions that any budget from a Democratic Governor is bound to be bad or, even worse, that if any of it is good, it is politically incumbent upon them to see that Leader doesn't get the credit for it.

As both the political realists who sit in the Legislature and the Governor's Office know, the process of government is one of give and take.

So far, there's been precious little evidence of this give and take.

We can't help but flinch at the possibility that what now is happening in Albany soon may be taking place in Harrisburg.

He Can't Win

Since the Democrats now are in control of Congress, President Eisenhower has to get along with them. And since he is Republican himself, he has to get along with the Republicans.

But the Democrats are hollering it is a crime the way the President is giving out Government jobs to Republicans. And the Republicans are hollering they are not getting any jobs.

Must make like feel like the mutual friend who tries to break up a fight between husband and wife.

Division In Ranks Of Doctors About Fluoridation Makes For Confusion

You never know what you are liable to get into when you act as a plain citizen who helps to pay the civic bills as a taxpayer, and you begin to question the experts. The new rule seems to be that those who call themselves experts having spoken, it is for the rest of us to tremble and obey.

I got into a thing called fluoridation because I read an article in the "Scientific American" about this stunt. I did not like the authors' approach to the problem since, in effect, they started out by telling those who disagree with them that they were swinish anti-intellectuals. As I read their pro-fluoridation article, my hackles rose and I said to myself that apparently nobody knows whether this thing is really good or bad except for small children and why not buy it in a drugstore. I have since discovered that I have paid cash money to a dentist to do it on my children out of a bottle. In fact, a study on the use of a Stannous Fluoride dentifrice appears in the Journal of the American Dental Society for February.

Having said such things to myself, I thought that maybe I would share my thoughts with my gentle readers, when I end behold! upon my head fell a mountain of literature, pro and con, articles signed by physicians and dentists who favored and opposed fluoridation and even more material from those who join movements and become fanatical about them, no matter on which side.

I have now gone through this accumulation of literature, first having thrown away all the duplicates. What I discover is this:

1. Fluoridation is good for children up to their eighth year;
2. It can be done out of a bottle bought in a drugstore by dentists and is so being done;
3. It does not help adults much if at all;
4. The dental profession is not 100 percent in favor of fluoridating drinking water to lessen the danger of caries, which is fancy talk for a cavity; some dentists say that the arguments for it are non-conclusive; others say, "What do you know about it, you aren't a dentist?"
5. Nobody denies that fluorides in water, even in small quantities, can effect the kidneys adversely and can later in life show up in kidney stones; the pros take the position that the quantity used in drinking water is so small that the danger is not worthy of consideration. Still, if you get a kidney stone, you would know that it hurts and can cause great damage;
6. Nobody bothers about the citizen who is allergic to the stuff; perhaps he will drink bottled water or gin. When I go to Chicago, for instance, I order bottled water from Wisconsin because the taste of Chicago water upsets my digestion. But what does the fellow do who has no expense account?
7. Fluoridation at the reservoir does not control the dosage; a child who drinks 10 glasses of water a day, gets five times the dosage of one who drinks two glasses a day.

This about sums it up. I have talked to a number of distinguished dentists about fluoridation. What impressed me most is that they object to being quoted pro or con. They say it is unethical for them to express an honest opinion as citizens about a matter which involves the taxpayer's money, because they may only ethically express themselves through learned journals. Even those who vehemently pronounced fluoridation to be a fad and that they can take care of it out of a bottle feel that they are bound not to get into a controversy in the press because that looks like advertising and therefore is unethical. Naturally, as a reporter, I think that is the bunk but I keep their names out of the story so that they will not be brought before the American Dental Association on charges.

Nevertheless, I get the impression that there is division in the ranks and when doctors do not agree, what should we laymen think? Maybe fluoridation is a boon, but I remember a whole skunkful of boons which in short order were silently discarded and forgotten. All I say is that if the stuff may be harmful to the kidneys, why not wait until we are sure one way or the other and meanwhile let the dentists use it on our kids from the bottle.

The Once Over

How Far Is Up?

The Fulbright stock market quiz show is on and should go well, considering the fact we haven't had a good big question and answer program in Washington since last year's Stevens-McCarthy "Down You Go" production. "Down You Go" was the best previous one was the Kefauver crime probe. This one lacks a Frank Costello or a private Schine, and hasn't even a Virginia Hill to spark the entertainment. It isn't even opening with the introduction of a photograph showing General Prosperity standing beside Private Stockholder, and a claim that somebody clipped out the photo of O. B. Cautious.

The quiz is expected to be as entertaining as "Sky's the Limit" but not as funny as "You Bet Your Life." Senator Fulbright is much money that he hasn't got can be safely put into a corporation which also is having to resort to special financing? (4) Is there any truth to a rumor that we may soon find a stock quoted at $100 but discover that the certificate and the printed matter are listed as "extra equipment" and cost more dough? (5) If this market should bust wide open as in 1929, can the shelters of the Civil Defense Service be used by the panic-stricken? (6) Has anything been done about proper routes for the big exodus "to the hills" in a market collapse?

Come what may, the Washington "True or False" show, with the Arkansas Senator as master of ceremonies, is good for plenty of public interest and should keep the Monroes, Gabor, Hayworths, Wayne Morises and even Veep Nixon out of the picture for three or four weeks. It will be interesting to watch the stock market, "question by question." If stocks take a big drop during the probe, the committee will be mobbed. If they rise sharply there will be a demand that the injury be made permanent. If stocks show no interest, it will be a reflection on Rhodes Scholars.

Yale Will Study Just How Families Spend Its Funds

If I can be of any assistance to the Yale University economics department in its study of the manner in which the American family disposes of its money, the department need only whistle and I'll be there before it can say "Boola."

The Ford Foundation has given the department a $60,000 grant for a three-year study, under the supervision of Associate Professor James Tobin, "to find out whether there is a system in the spending and saving of families in this country."

This is a question to which I have devoted a great deal of thought, man and boy and which I probably would have continued to explore independently even if I had never heard of the Yale project. I cannot say that, as yet, I have found any answers, but the Ford people would consider worth $60,000.

But maybe I could point out some pitfalls for the Yale researchers to avoid, and possibly put them next to a promising lead or two.

In any case, since I am going to be working on this problem anyway, the Yale staff might be interested in finding out whether I work more systematically and fruitfully with or without a foundation footing the bills. It's just a thought.

Quite frankly, I went into this matter originally with what Professor Tobin might look upon as a preconceived bias. It seemed to me that there must be a system to the family's disposal of money. Seemed like nobody could fritter away all that dough by accident.

But an evaluation of my findings up to date strongly suggests that it's possible. Family spending goes along hummily without any discernible system even as orderly as the one followed by a fellow I heard about who built up a thriving business from a mere shoeshorn and explained his success formula as follows:

"I just spend less than I take in."

The Yale people will soon find that if the average family has any system of spending, that isn't it. The average family has a tendency to spend more than it takes in. (Where does Yale suppose the Ford Foundation got all that money to hand out to inquisitive professors?)

But it would be a waste of time and the Ford money to make any effort to pin down individual responsibility for family over-spending. A family often over-spends its income but the various members of a family never do.

In fact, it is possible to prove with a stub pencil and an old envelope that each member of a family spends less than any other member. Family spending is one field in which the whole can be more than the sum of all its parts.

"How can that be?" the Yale economists will ask.

Hah! That's only one of the baffling phenomena they will come up against before they finish that study.

Budd Schulberg—who writes wonderful books, but drives his publisher crazy by never delivering them on time (I know, because I'm the publisher!)—explained his technique to Reporter Ed Wallace. "First," said Budd, "I clean the typewriter." Then I go through my shelves and return all borrowed books. Then I play with my three children. Then, if it's warm, I go for a swim. By then, it's time to clean the typewriter again."

And that's why Budd's books are so few and far between. But they're worth waiting for!

Red China Puts Out New Feeler On U. S. Airmen

Washington, March 7 — Red China has put out a new feeler on the imprisoned U. S. airmen.

UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld has been informed, through Swedish diplomatic channels, that the parents or wives of these 15 Korean war casualties can procure their release by coming to China to get them.

This is a modification of Peiping's original offer to permit relatives to visit the POW. That carried no assurance they would be liberated, although it was strongly hinted at. Now the Reds have apparently added such a promise, and thus craftily intensified the pressure on the anguished relatives by holding out to them the enticing hope of being the direct means of securing the return of their sons and husbands.

Hammarskjöld has reported this secret overture to Secretary of State Dulles.

Since the UN Secretary-General's visit to Peiping several months ago, he has been continuing his private efforts in behalf of the American POW through the Swedish embassy there. His cousin, Peder Hammarskjöld, an embassy official, has had a number of discussions with Premier Chou En-lai and other Red leaders.

From the Hammarskjöld reports, the Peiping moguls feel they "won't be losing face" under their latest scheme to free the falsely-imprisoned Americans.

In fact, the Communists are confident their plan will pay off big as a propaganda maneuver both in China and abroad. It will enable them, particularly, to pose as "humanitarians."

These points have not been minimized in the accounts to the State Department.

Nothing will be done about this matter until Secretary Dulles returns from the Far East. What he informs the President may importantly affect action regarding the POW.

State Department insiders consider it highly significant that Dulles invited Burmese Premier U. Nu to visit Washington later this year.

That has not yet been announced. But Dulles extended the invitation on instructions from President Eisenhower, with whom he discussed the matter before meeting U. Nu after the SEATO conference in Bangkok. Burma is not a member of this alliance, but U. Nu had expressed a desire to talk to Dulles about the imprisoned airmen.

Senate Foreign Relations Committee members are saying privately that Dulles will be closely questioned regarding that controversial report, following his conference with U. Nu, that Peiping is willing to discuss the POW and other problems with an "unofficial" U. S. delegation.

According to these senators, there is "hope to this story that meets the eye." That's why they are eager to quiz Dulles.

They have been told the following: That Dulles knew about this alleged Peiping offer before going to the Far East, discussed it fully with the President, who directed him to explore it while out there.

The Foreign Relations Committee members want to know what, if anything, Dulles advises the President.

Note: Another head of a foreign government who has been invited to visit Washington, although that has not yet been announced, is Cuba's President Fulgencio Batista. He has made a number of trips to the U. S., but his only other official one was years ago when Batista commanded the Cuban Army and came to Washington as guest of General George Marshall, then Army Chief of Staff.

Up-To-Date Warning — The Air Force is modernizing its training on what to do in the event of capture by the Reds.

Airmen are being warned, in the revised manual, that the Communists will use everything "from vodka and blonder to outright cruelty of the most barbarous kind" to force prisoners to talk.

Illustrative of the Communists' luring tactics is their "Hour of Charm." This is described as follows:

"The prisoner is asked to join a small group of pilots at a cocktail party. These pilots turn out to be high-ranking enemy flyers. During the evening amidst vodka, blondes and music, the airmen is inveigled into doing a lot of talking that he shouldn't."

The Air Force's new evasion and escape guide discounts the effectiveness of so-called truth serums and other drugs that the Reds reportedly use to induce POW to disclose secrets. Says the document, "It is impossible to extract information from an individual by the use of drugs if he has determined beforehand that he will not talk, even though the drug is administered in a hidden manner in liquids or food."

But the manual states bluntly the Communists are ruthless in trying to force prisoners to talk.

Turnpike Revenues Are Sound

—by H. G. Heller

Just to illustrate the added traffic potential for the Pocono Mountains with the completion of the Northeast Extension extending from Philadelphia to New York state border let's take a look at the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commissions' summary of traffic and revenue experience during 1954 on existing turnpike.

It shows that 12,635,242 vehicles traveled 1,149,634,525 revenue miles on the 360-mile tollway during the 12-month period.

Gross revenue from tolls amounted to $21,866,190.12. Receipts from other sources, such as concessions, permits for special hauling, etc. totaled $1,227,293.64, bringing the grand total of gross revenue to $23,093,383.76.

The total of vehicles is 8.6 above the 11,630,935 that traveled the road in 1953. The increase in total mileage over 1953, when 1,139,036,203 miles were registered, amounts to nine-tenths of one per cent.

However, for the first time in any calendar year since the war, toll revenue in 1954 was less than in the year previous. In 1953 tolls amounted to $22,124,936.56. The decrease in 1954 amounted to $258,746.44 and is approximately 1.1 per cent.

Passenger car mileage increased more than 29 million miles in 1954 but the toll differential between commercial and passenger vehicles—a ratio of approximately four cents a mile for the former to one cent a mile for the latter—more than cancelled out the gain and reflected itself in the revenue decrease.

The sale of liquid fuel on the Turnpike in 1954 totaled 28,889,544 gallons on which a Commonwealth tax of $1,444,477.20 was levied. During the 14 years and three months of Turnpike operation, from its opening on Oct. 1, 1940 to Jan. 1, 1955, a total of 192,743,078 gallons of liquid fuel were delivered to its fuel stations, accounting for $9,072,912.64 in fuel tax.

All of this money reverts to the Commonwealth treasury for eventual sharing with the 67 counties of the State where it is earmarked for construction and maintenance of other highway facilities. None of it is ever retained or returned to Turnpike use since all Turnpike maintenance, operation and extensions must be paid from the road's own revenues.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, on the strength of revenue consistency, has attained the position of being years ahead of schedule in redemption of Turnpike Bonds that financed the facility.

Scientists Ask U. N. To Study Bomb Test Effects

By Frank Carey

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—The Federation of American Scientists pleaded "with some desperation" today for a United Nations study to find out how many hydrogen and atomic bomb tests the human race can stand without grave danger.

It suggested that, if the study warranted, the U. N. might clamp a limit on the number of nuclear test blasts that could be set off in any one year throughout the world.

The aim of this curb would be to limit the amount of radiation resulting from atomic experiments, to safeguard present and future generations. Some scientists have warned that this radiation, by changing the genes determining human heredity, could wreak grave damage on generations yet unborn.

The Atomic Energy Commission, however, has expressed the view that the amount of radioactivity so far released has posed no significant threat.

But the scientists' federation said: "It should be clear that future accelerated H-bomb test programs, by several atomic powers, will ultimately reach a level which can be shown to be a serious threat to the genetic safety of all the people of the world."

The federation is a national organization of some 2,000 scientists and engineers interested in "the interactions of science and public affairs."

It urged the United States to take the initiative in proposing that the U. N. set up a commission to study the "potential dangers" from radioactivity.

CIVIL DEFENSE Administrator Val Peterson is shown as he appeared in Washington before the civil defense subcommittee of the Senate Armed Services Committee. He suggested the emergency construction of "open trenches" or concrete pipe H-bomb shelters along evacuation highways. Senators cold-shouldered the idea and urged instead an immediate start on construction of evacuation highways.

It said it is aware of the obstacles to thorough-going world control of atomic weapons, but cannot believe "that mankind cannot achieve limited cooperation in the face of a common danger."

Accordingly it said that "with some sense of desperation" it had made its proposal to the state department and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, chief American delegate to the U. N.

The federation's three-point proposal—signed by its chairman, Dr. M. Stanley Livingston of Massachusetts Institute of Technology—recommended that the U. N. commission:

1. Study the problem of radioactive contamination resulting from bomb tests and obtain scientific data and expert opinion on the magnitude of the radiation intensities produced.

2. Obtain and evaluate scientific opinion on the biological and hereditary effects of radiation on human beings, and to establish an "agreed danger threshold."

3. Report the results of such studies to the General Assembly of the United Nations "with recommendations as to procedures required to avoid exceeding the danger threshold."

If such a commission established a definite "danger threshold," the statement said, "it is probable that the United Nations would then choose to establish some system of control of tests"—such as setting up a continuous monitoring system.

It might also be found necessary, said the federation, to limit the total number of tests per year or to specify essential safety precautions for tests of certain magnitudes.

Under such a system, said the federation, any one of the atomic powers refusing to comply with U. N. regulations, "would have to face an incensed and alarmed world reaction"—and possibly even "policing actions" under armed force.

On the other hand, said the statement, it might be that a U. N.

study would show that "test explosions alone, in any anticipated number" would "not approach the genetic danger threshold, and that adequate precautions would prevent significant damage from fallout."

If this should be the finding, an FAS spokesman told a reporter, special monitoring systems and elaborate international precautions against unrestricted testing might not be necessary.

"Nevertheless," said the federation statement, "a danger threshold could have been established which would almost certainly be exceeded in the event of a major atomic war, a point on which almost all authorities agree."

"The nations of the world would be well-warned, and would be forced to take a more realistic attitude toward the consequences of atomic war and the necessity for arms limitation and control."

The federation said that Asian countries have "become very concerned" about H-bomb tests and that "whether it accords with the facts or not, the United States is getting the major share of criticism."

"We have suffered a significant propaganda setback," it added, "and it is a world issue whether or not an objective study shows further tests to be dangerous. We stand convicted in the eyes of many people of an attitude of callous disregard for the health and safety of the people of other nations."

"Other, non-atomic nations are already clamoring for an H-bomb test ban. It seems highly probable that some proposal for U. N. action will be presented soon, by one of these other nations. Mere acceptance by the United States of such a proposal would not have as much significance as though the U. S. were to initiate the proposal."

"We must face up to the serious problem presented by the antagonistic reaction of the Asian nations to our test plans. We must either persuade the Russians to join us in banning further tests, or hold our tests in another area, or persuade the Asian nations that tests can be made in a manner so they are not a threat to their peoples. This (the federation's) proposal provides a means of resolving this dilemma."

Muhlenberg Mathematics Scholarship

CREATION of a special mathematics tournament scholarship was announced yesterday by Dr. J. Conrad Seegers, president of Muhlenberg College, Allentown.

Dr. Seegers said the scholarship will be awarded to a young man who is among the ten top-ranking students in the State Mathematics Tournament.

The tournament will be held April 30 at Pennsylvania State University. A large group of Monroe County students will compete in the tournament, according to Edward Bosman, local teacher and an official in the State math teachers association.

The Muhlenberg scholarship will total $350 for the freshman year. It is renewable each year thereafter, with a requirement for good grades.

The value of the scholarship may be increased, Dr. Seegers said. This increase in allotment will be made if the winner shows a merited rating on the college examinations.

Particular requirements at Muhlenberg are abilities in the fields: mathematics, verbal abilities and general aptitude.

The scholarship is to be awarded to a young man interested in a liberal arts education. This general field would include the areas of pre-engineering, pre-medicine, pre-theology, pre-law and business administration.

The winning student must be prepared to submit credentials which will satisfy the entrance requirements of Muhlenberg College, Dr. Seegers said.

Institution Investigations, Toll Road Check, Unemployment Compensation Up In Assembly

HARRISBURG, March 6 (P)—The General Assembly stood ready today to give final approval to a Republican-sponsored investigation of conditions at Laurelton State Village.

Speaker H. G. Andrews (D—Cambria) said he expects no opposition to the proposal in the Democratic-controlled House of Representatives on Monday.

"As chairman of the rules committee, I brought the resolution out for a vote," said Andrews. "It will be passed."

Attention centered on the Union County institution for mentally deficient women when Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro closed a detention center because of what he termed "inhuman treatment" there.

As a result, Dr. Effie C. Ireland, Laurelton superintendent, and an aide, Dr. Catherine Edget, resigned.

Senate Republicans Samuel B. Wolfe (Union) and Robert D. Fleming (Allegheny), introduced the resolution in the interest of "fair play" and to give Dr. Ireland a chance to defend her administration.

Speaking at a dinner given last night to Dr. Ireland and Dr. Edgette, Sen. Wolfe said "It is a shameful thing" that they should have their professional reputations "besmirched."

"I am as sure, as I am sure of anything, that neither Dr. Ireland nor Dr. Edgette would ever tolerate for one moment, the mistreatment of anyone under their care," Wolfe said, adding:

"It is very unfair for anyone to make unsubstantiated charges against anyone and then refuse to give the person accused a chance to tell their side of the story."

Democrats for the most part have stood by Shapiro and invited the investigation of conditions he criticized. Shapiro also has brought administrations at other welfare institutions under verbal fire.

The Laurelton investigation would be made by four members of the Senate and four from the House.

The Senate in its tenth week of the 1955 General Assembly session will turn its attention to proposals to extend the Pennsylvania Turnpike into new areas of the state and to working out disputed amendments to the commonwealth's unemployment compensation law.

Chairman George N. Wade (R—Cumberland) of the Senate highways committee has scheduled a public hearing for Tuesday on proposed extensions to the toll road. Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission members are to be present. Prime matter for discussion is whether to push authorization of an east-west turnpike extension paralleling the New York border or a more central route from Sharon to Stroudsburg—or both.

Other legislation before the Assembly would authorize an extension from the western section of the present main stem of the turnpike southward to the West Virginia border.

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, senate GOP floor leader, said study will continue this week of unemployment compensation legislation.

Mahany reported he has received much mail opposing a House-passed bill to boost maximum jobless pay benefits from $30 to $35 a week and scale upward employers' payroll taxes.

Mahany said much of his correspondence suggests that the bill be held up until Gov. George M. Leader produces his complete tax program.

"For that reason," Mahany said, "it may be better to pass the Senate bill we have before us."

He referred to a GOP-sponsored measure designed to eliminate an automatic drop in jobless benefit payments and sharp increase in employer contributions. The automatic cutbacks may occur by April 1 unless the Assembly acts to alter the law by that time.

The Senate bill does not provide for increases in maximum benefits as advocated by labor organizations for some time.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Ruth Grigg Horting, public assistance secretary, urged Senate passage of the House-passed unemployment compensation bill on grounds that it will benefit the "general economy" of the state government.

By extending the period over which jobless benefits are paid—through taxes provided by employers—it will stave off new pressure on the public assistance fund, for which many jobless eventually apply, she said.

In the House, a proposed constitutional amendment to permit the governor to succeed himself will be left up to individual members, Speaker Andrews said.

"It will not be a matter of party policy," said Andrews, "each representative will make it a matter of individual conviction."

In other weekend developments:

Rep. Charles C. Smith, GOP floor leader, charged that Gov. George M. Leader "seems to be preparing the way for a complete switch on his promises to abolish the state sales tax."

Smith cited a quotation from Leader in which the governor said he is "not closing the door on anything" in his staff's review of tax possibilities. Leader said he must first see the budget, now being prepared.

Miles Horst, GOP State chairman, meanwhile accused the administration of making the state's school system "the goat of the commonwealth's fiscal crisis."

He cited Leader's intention of deferring payment of 25 million in state school subsidies and declared:

"Surely there are other appropriations which could be cut too."

Mend Wood Joints

Wood glue is the best adhesive for repairing wood joints. All the old glue should be removed before the new is applied. And a thin coat of glue holds better than a thick one.

Complete Supplies Readied

WHEN SPRING rolls around, and you know you've been waiting for it to come, you who've been planning a garden or a new, better lawn will want to stop in at Traders Flour and Feed Company for advice, fertilizer, grass seed and garden seed, spades, hoes, rakes, planters, rollers, tilled forks, etc.

Come spring, the chicken growers, truck gardeners, farmers and livestock men will want to be sure and stop in because Traders Flour and Feed Company has the latest equipment and methods which enables them to produce the most profit for less cost.

Baby chick orders, too, are being accepted; and, you can rest assured they will arrive at Traders in the best possible health. Advice on the care and feeding of the chicks during the early part of the season is readily obtainable upon request.

Cattle growers, Paul Florey feels sure, already know of the helpful service to be found at Traders. Practically every phase of the spring season is covered at Traders, from the fellow who just wants to refurbish his front lawn, to the man who makes his bread 'n butter from selling his eggs and produce to the local market. Dog lovers, too, can look forward to being well taken care of with a variety of canine products of dependability.

Well, all-in-all, Traders Flour and Feed Company is in the spring mood and you won't be getting the jump on them if you decide to stop in today and pick up a few things for this fresh, new season that's almost with us.

Plastic Pipe Installation Very Easy

IF YOU CAN use a wood-saw or knife you can easily install plastic pipe.

Robert H. Collins, manager of the D. Katz & Sons Plumbing & Heating Department, said plastic pipe has many proven advantages over the use of steel pipe.

It weighs far less than steel piping and the cost is much lower. A 420-foot coil of 2-in. plastic pipe weighs only 172 pounds; 420 feet of 2-in. steel pipe weighs 1,600 pounds.

Plastic pipe will not accumulate scale. It is rotproof, corrosion proof, rust proof. It offers less friction to the passage of liquids because of its smooth finish.

Plastic pipe comes in flexible coils and saves tremendously on fittings. All you need to install plastic pipe is a knife and a screw driver. Because it is flexible, it easily follows the contour of a ditch and eliminates removing large boulders, since the pipe can go right around the obstacle.

Home-owners can have their wells drilled in the cellar instead of away from the house and never have to worry about knocking holes in the ceiling if the pipe has to be raised from the well.

Plastic pipe can be used for electrical conduits, drainage and sewer lines. There is less danger of clogging because less fittings are used.

If frozen it will not break, consequently it can be left above the ground. The entire water system of Hialeah Park, Shawnee, consists of plastic pipe installed by E. R. Bush, local well driller.

Use Water Putty

WATER PUTTY should be used for patching cracks between sections of wallboard. Ordinary oil putty will stain the area around the seam.

It's ideal for golf courses, because at the end of the season the plastic pipe can be disconnected, rerolled and stored just like a garden hose.

Mr. Collins also noted it has tremendous strength. One-half inch plastic pipe will withstand 540 pounds pressure per square inch. And it performs in temperatures ranging from 50 degrees below zero to 145 degrees.

Sharp Eyes Can Find Sound Home

Tens of thousands of neglected old buildings are scattered throughout the country. Externally, they are hardly worth a second glance, but in many cases a shoddy exterior conceals a solid foundation and strong framework—an excellent core around which to build a new shell for considerably less than the cost of a completely new home.

In looking for an old house with remodeling possibilities, the trick, of course is to be able to detect what lies under the surface. There's no magic way to do this.

Miss Delores A. Dellaria, John E. Tredinnick Are Wed

Miss Delores A. Dellaria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Dellaria, of 58 Prospect St., East Stroudsburg, became the bride of John E. Tredinnick, son of John E. Tredinnick, of 164 Spring St., East Stroudsburg, and the late Catherine Tredinnick, Saturday afternoon.

The impressive double ring ceremony was performed in the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church at 2 p. m. in the presence of many relatives and friends. Rev. Frank Wingerter, the pastor, officiated.

The church decorations included a large bouquet of white gladioli and snapdragons while sprays of white snapdragons marked the end of the pews.

Walter Schlough, church organist, furnished suitable nuptial music during the ceremony. The soloist was Mrs. Beulah McConnell, who was heard in the numbers, "Prayer Perfect," "Until," "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer" during the performance of the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace over white satin with scooped neckline and tight fitting bodice, long pointed sleeves and waltz length skirt. A very bouffant headpiece half hat of matching Chantilly lace trimmed in seed pearls ended in a fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses, pompons and freesias centered with a white orchid.

The matron-of-honor was Mrs. Jean Serfass, of 913 Fairview Ave., Stroudsburg, and Miss Ruth Tarr, of Chipperfield Dr., Stroudsburg, was the bridesmaid.

The gowns of the attendants were of imported eyelet embroidered organza material with scooped neckline and cap sleeves with tight fitting bodices, waltz length skirts and very full. The gowns were of pastel shades of green and yellow. Their headpiece bands were of matching shades of braided straw trimmed with pearls. Matching shoes and nylon knit gloves were worn. They carried bouquets of spring flowers.

The best man was William Eyer, of 113 W. Fourth St., East Stroudsburg. The ushers were Thomas Tredinnick, 164 Spring St., brother of the bridegroom; Robert J. Dellaria and Paul J. Dellaria, brothers of the bride, all of East Stroudsburg.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of flowering lace over blue taffeta, scoop neck, three-quarter length sleeves in sharp contrast to the draped accented blue taffeta sash that wrapped the hips and tied in a bow in the back, small white shirred nylon hat trimmed with seed pearls and shoes matching the blue taffeta in the dress. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Thomas Tredinnick, grandmother of the bridegroom, chose a dusty rose crepe gown with round neckline with inserts of matching lace, lace skirt with matching taffeta underskirt, pink hat trimmed across the entire brim with small pink flowers. Hers was also a white orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the social rooms of the church for 150 guests. A large wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and smilax decorating around the cake, formed the centerpiece of the bride's table.

The church reception was followed by a private one at the bride's home for immediate families and friends. Here, too, a wedding cake with miniature bride and bridegroom and centerpiece of spring flowers featured. White streamers extended from the ceiling with tiny bells and doves at the end of each streamer.

The newlyweds left later on

Barrett Unit Discuss New United Drive

Barrett — The regular monthly meeting of the Barrett Community Club was held on Wednesday, March 2, at the Barrett YMCA. An interesting program: "Your Voice is You" was presented before the business meeting by Miss Connors of the Bell Telephone Company.

Mrs. Eileen Wolfe gave a financial report on the Barrett Community Club Preschool Center. Mrs. Wolfe also reported the preschool committee plans to hold a White Elephant Sale during the latter part of April. There will be a PTA Meeting of Preschool parents on March 15 at the YMCA.

Mrs. Barbara Beyer reported that representatives from the club had met with representatives from other local clubs and plans were being made to form a United Fund Drive.

It was voted to entertain the husbands at the April meeting. A covered dish supper and a play by the dramatic group is planned for this meeting.

President Bette McCambridge reported that the club had spent a total of 757 working hours exclusively on community projects.

Mrs. Terry Megargle reported on the February square dance and a vote of thanks was given her for her fine work.

Mrs. Marjorie Thomas, incoming president, reported that the following committee chairmen have been appointed: Ways and Means, Ruth Lewis; Public Affairs, Barbara Beyer; Historian, Nora Meyung; News letter, Mary Rush; auditors, Peggy Krummel, Janet Brush, Edith Wilson; international affairs, Josephine Williams; education, Marion Styk; fine arts, Helen Koch.

Also, yearbook, Helen Miller; finance, Nina Gravel; publicity, Phyllis Price; fashion show, Bette McCambridge, dramatics, Billie Kreek; music, Rena Nauman; hospitality, Yvette Pihl; and membership, Mary Wicks, Marge Sopko.

Talent Dollars were distributed by the treasurer, returns to be made in the fall for the benefit of the State Federation Project, the Women's Medical College.

The executive board meeting will be held on Friday, March 11, at the home of Bette McCambridge.

Following adjournment, refreshments were served by the following hostesses: Mrs. Peggy Lewis, Mrs. Beatrice Price, Mrs. Elinor Biles and Mrs. Eileen Wolfe.

Jackson Twp. PTA Purchase Two New Tables

Readers — The regular monthly meeting of the Jackson Township PTA was held at the school on Tuesday night, March 1. Plans for an auction sale was among the business matters under discussion.

Mrs. Rena Shick, the secretary, called the meeting to order in the absence of the president, Mrs. Bea Lotz. Announcement was made that two new tables had been purchased for the lunchroom during the month of February.

The auction sale will be held May 20, with Joseph Starnier acting as the auctioneer.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The Spring-like weather all wasted on working days would have come in handy for the weekend. The outside chores we had lined up for the family went undone. The early robins shivered on the sodden lawn. And nobody seemed to have enough energy to move from their chairs.

Well, the television sets certainly got a workout over the weekend, if nothing else did. I'd been looking forward to the opera version of "Casey at the Bat", and very well done it was, too. Advance stories indicated that at least one letter-writer had asked if maybe this time in the opera, there could be a happy ending, and that Casey wouldn't strike out.

However, not even opera could tamper so drastically with the poem. So he struck out, all right. Though the baseball fans in our family were quick to point out that when the pitcher interrupted his wind up to sing another chorus that constituted a balk and by all the rules of baseball, Casey should this time have drawn a walk.

I haven't had time to check this with the sports department, and I guess I won't. I might get told to get back to social where I belong, and I haven't enough energy to write another column — let alone think of another idea. It's a good thing a rainy weekend only lasts two days.

Cather-Doleiden Nuptials Performed At Zion Church

Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Carolyn J. Doleiden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Doleiden, of 23 S. Eighth St., Stroudsburg, and Charles E. Cather, of Shamokin, Pa., son of Rev. Ralph M. Cather, of Winchester, Va., and the late Mrs. Minnie C. Cather, Saturday morning.

The nuptials were conducted at 10:30 a. m. by Rev. Frank H. Blatt, the pastor, attended by relatives and friends.

Wedding music was performed by Mrs. Fred Quig, the church organist, who played "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" during the impressive double ring rites.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white lace ballerina length gown with white accessories and carried an arm spray of white roses with white orchid center.

The bride's attendant was Mrs. Margaret Doleiden, of 147, Broad St., Stroudsburg, sister-in-law, as matron-of-honor. She wore a light blue silk shantung dress with navy accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses.

Richard G. Doleiden, of Broad St., was Mr. Cather's best man. A reception was held at the bride's home after the ceremony for the immediate families and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Cather left later on a honeymoon trip of undisclosed destination. The bride wore a navy and white dress with navy accessories and white orchid corsage for traveling.

Mrs. Cather is a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and was employed by the Monroe County Credit Bureau, Stroudsburg.

Mr. Cather is a graduate of Handley High School, Winchester, Va., and is presently manager of the Montgomery Ward Co. store at Shamokin, where they will make their home.

Hamilton PTA Meets Tuesday

Luth. Parish Units Elect Officers

Gilbert — The Women's Missionary Society of the Pleasant Valley Lutheran Parish met in Salem Lutheran Church, Gilbert, Feb. 28. Mrs. Hayden Murphy presented the topic "Heirs to the Kingdom, the Christian Family" written by Mrs. Harold C. Letts. Taking part were Mrs. Arlington Martin, Mrs. Stanley Rader and Mrs. Murphy. A serious discussion of the problems raised in the topic proved to make the meeting a most interesting and informative one.

Mrs. Murphy, who is thank offering secretary, offered a prayer for the quarterly ingathering of the thank offering gifts. Plans were discussed for a reception for the confirmation classes to be held in April in St. Matthew's Church, Kunkletown. The president, Mrs. James Laubach, expressed gratitude for the success of the World Day of Prayer service in the area which was largely due to the cooperation of the women of all the neighboring churches.

Results of the election of officers was as follows: president, Mrs. James R. Laubach; vice president, Mrs. Hayden Murphy; secretary, Mrs. Stanley Rader; treasurer, Mrs. Clarence Smith.

Announcements were made of an executive meeting of the women's Missionary Societies of the Wilkes-Barre Conference on April 21 in Nanticoke and the Synodical Convention in St. John's Lutheran Church, Wilkes-Barre, from May 12 to 15.

The Men's Brotherhood also met and the topic "The Congregation and the Home", written by Rev. Leman V. Olsenius, was led by pastor, James Laubach.

Officers of the Men's Brotherhood who were elected were: president, LeRoy Hinton; vice president, Hayden Murphy and secretary-treasurer, Raymond Christman.

The March meetings of both organizations will take place in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Kresgeville, when Mrs. Ralph Frantz will lead the Women's Missionary topic, "Sarah, the Wife of a Pioneer Missionary," and Pastor Laubach will introduce the Brotherhood topic, "The Congregation and Parish Education."

Barbara Elaine Vogt Wed To Donald Jack Wright

Kneeling before the miniature candlelighted altar at Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church parsonage at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, Miss Barbara Elaine Vogt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Vogt, of 84 Brown St., East Stroudsburg, was wedded to Donald Jack Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Harris, of Foxtown Hill, Stroudsburg RD.

Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor of Grace Church, officiated at the double ring nuptial in the presence of 20 members and friends of the immediate families.

The bride wore a lace over net and satin street length gown with flowing skirt and tiara of seed pearls and lace and a white rosebud corsage.

The attendants were Mrs. Albert Raughley, as matron-of-honor, and Donald Herman, as best man. Both are residents of East Stroudsburg.

The matron-of-honor was attired in a navy blue crepe street length dress with red and white accessories and white rosebud corsage.

The bride's mother wore a charcoal silk print street length dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother's dress was navy blue street length with pink accessories. Hers was a red rosebud corsage.

The reception was held in the church Parish House for 60 guests. A tiered wedding cake with miniature bride and bridegroom centered the bride's table with tapers and white chrysanthemums. They left later on a week's trip to Washington, D. C., and the South. On their return they will occupy their newly furnished apartment at 404 Claremont Ave., Stroudsburg.

The bride is a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School, class of 1953 and is employed in the office of Line Material Co.

The bridegroom was graduated in the class of 1950, East Stroudsburg High School and enlisted in the U. S. Navy in January, 1952, and is serving aboard the USS Glennon which sails out of Newport, R. I. Prior to entering the Navy, he was employed by his father in carpenter contracting business.

The bride is a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School, class of 1953 and is employed in the office of Line Material Co.

Gaza Fighting Gives U. N. Biggest Problem In Keeping Mid East Peace

By William N. Oatis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Gaza fighting has spotlighted a big problem for the U. N.: how to keep peace on the Egypt-Israel border.

The refugee riots that followed spotlighted another: how to manage eight to nine hundred thousand Arab refugees from Palestine who want to go home and can't.

The second problem strains the resources of humanity and the recent desert happenings in and around Gaza show that the U. N., after 6½ years of trying, still isn't near getting it licked.

Gaza is the old Mediterranean city where the Bible says Samson, history's most famous Jewish strongman, brought down the temple of his Philistine captors. The city stands in a 6-by-30-mile coastal strip held by Egypt.

In the so-called Gaza strip—formally a part of Palestine, now held by Egypt—the U. N. Relief and Works Agency for Palestine refugees has four camps for Arabs. They are the people who fled in the 1948 Arab-Jewish war from neighborhoods inside what now is Israel.

UNRWA, in its last report as of mid-1952, counted 212,600 such refugees in the Gaza Strip, 267,034 of them receive relief rations. They are among a total of 887,000 Palestine Arabs now living in Egypt, Lebanon, Syria and Jordan on the Israeli perimeter.

Near Gaza last Monday night, Israeli and Egyptian troops clashed. The Egyptians said they lost 39 killed. They said the Israelis had attacked them without provocation. The Israelis claimed they lost 8 dead. They charged the Egyptians hit first, in Israel. The case is before the Security Council.

Next day, hundreds of the refugees rioted. Demonstrations were still going on at the weekend. The refugees stormed U. N. truck headquarters in Gaza, tore down a PREMIER Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt, who has announced that he will meet "force with force" in the Israeli border crisis, is pictured in Cairo as he prayed at the Azhar Mosque. Addressing cadets in connection with recent Israeli troop clashes near Gaza, the Premier said he had ordered soldiers to "repel attacks" and defend the border. Nasser warned that Egypt will no longer rely on U. N. for protection.

U. N. flag, burned U. N. vehicles. They also burned U. N. food warehouses, destroying their own provisions.

It would seem they had much to thank the U. N. for. Since the Palestine war, it had fed them. Only last month, it had finished moving them all from tents into concrete huts. Together with the Egyptian government, the U. N. was studying the idea of moving 50,000 of them to a better spot just east of the Suez Canal.

In spite of assurances to the contrary from Egypt and UNRWA, they were said to fear that if they moved to new farms, they would hurt their claims to the land they once lived on in Palestine.

That land is now in the hands of the Israeli government. The Arab governments, champions of the refugees, say they should be allowed to go back to it. Israel says she can't afford to let them come back because they would be prime security risks.

It is a continuing stalemate.

Meanwhile, the General Assembly late in 1952 extended UNRWA's life for five years from next June 30.

M. Smithfield Pre-School Clinic Mar. 10

ECHO LAKE — A pre-school clinic at Middle Smithfield School is scheduled for Thursday, March 10 at 9:30 a.m.

All children who will be six years old before Feb. 1, 1956 should attend the clinic, accompanied by parents, so that the children may start school next September.

Parents are required to bring vaccination and birth certificates for their children with them to the registration clinic.

The number of farm tractors in Sweden rose from 18,000 in 1939 to 100,000 today.

Lake Harmony Wins, 77-54

Barrett Crew Falters In Home Stretch

POCONO PINES — Lake Harmony kept its second half title hopes alive in the Pocono Mountains Basketball League Saturday night by taking the measure of Barrett, 77-54, in the second of two games played here on the Tobyhanna Township High court.

Lake Harmony led from start to finish, but Barrett remained within striking distance right up to the last period.

The Harmony contingent, winning its fifth game in six second half outings, blasted off to a 22-14 advantage in the first quarter and remained in the front running position the entire distance.

Lake Harmony held a 36-27 advantage at the halfway mark, after the host team ran up a 14-13 edge in the second stanza.

It was the same story in the second half as Lake Harmony enjoyed a 19-17 advantage in the third period and then broke the game wide open with a 22-10 showing in the final period.

The winning contingent ran up a 37-25 in field goals and converted three of six foul shots. Barrett converted four of 12 free throws.

Ronnie Esrang's 30 points were tops in a winning cause, while Henry "Hank" Olsommer led the losing attack with 24 counters.

Each team went the entire distance with five players and each cager broke into the scoring column for at least three points.

Lake Harmony tangles with Johnson's Diner tonight, at Tannersville, at 8:30 p. m.

Richardson Reported Fair

WILLIAMSPORT, March 6 (P)—Thomas H. "Tommy" Richardson, president of the class "A" Eastern Baseball League since 1937, was reported in fair condition at Divine Providence Hospital tonight after undergoing a gall bladder operation Friday.

Richardson had been bothered by the ailment for some time and entered the hospital Feb. 28 after suffering an attack.

Friends estimated the 60-year-old executive will be hospitalized another two weeks and possibly will not be back at work until early next month.

St. Mary's Triumphs

PITTSBURGH, March 6 (P)—St. Mary's of Buffalo, N. Y., whipped Western Pennsylvania 67-60 last night to win the 23rd annual Eastern State Schools for the Deaf Basketball Tournament for the fourth straight year.

NCAA Television Body Expected To Submit Plan For Approval

NEW YORK, March 6 (P)—The NCAA Television Committee meets here tomorrow and Tuesday and is supposed to come up with a TV plan for the 1955 football season, to be submitted to the member colleges for approval.

The same thing was supposed to happen in Chicago last week, but the final action was unaccountably postponed.

The suggestion that the delay

Shawnee Pro Finishes Fifth In Mexican Open Tournament

MEXICO CITY, March 6 (P)—Roberto De Vincenzo of Argentina won the Mexican Open Golf crown for the third time today, repeating his feat of 1951 and 1953 with a 72-hole total of 271, 17 under par. De Vincenzo immediately announced that he has accepted an offer as pro here.

Tony Holguin, Midlothian, Ill., took second money with a 276 and Ernie Vossler, of Fort Worth, Tex., finished third.

Stan Dudas, Shawnee-on-Deleware, won $400 by finishing in fifth place.

Dudas put together rounds of 69, 69, 75 and 71 for a final total of 284 strokes.

Clark, Maxwell, Winingger Tie In Baton Rouge Open

BATON ROUGE, La., March 6 (P)—Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., and Bo Winingger of Oklahoma City tied for a three-way tie in the $12,500 Baton Rouge Open golf tournament today with 278's after 72 holes. An 18-hole playoff will be held tomorrow.

Clark stroked an even par 72 today, starting the final round in a tie for second place at 206.

Maxwell and Winingger each had 71 for their final round. They were knotted at 207 when the day's play began.

Marty Furgol, of Lemont, Ill., who tied with a 205 total after 54 holes had trouble with the gusty winds and chill weather and blew to a two over par 74 to tie with four others at 279.

Jerry Barber, of Los Angeles, who opened the day with a 206 total, went one over par with 73.

Ad Doering of Inwood, N.Y., Jay Hebert of Woodmere, and Cary Middlecoff, of Kiamisha Lake, N.Y., also had 279 totals.

Herbert, a former Louisiana State University golfer playing on the familiar 6,400-yard Baton Rouge Country Club course came in with a sizzling four under par 68, the best round of the day.

Two physicians, Dr. Edwin Hommel of the state Boarding Commission and the house doctor at the hotel where Sugar Ray was staying, both examined Robinson and said:

"We found no temperature and no evidence of illness or injury to warrant a postponement."

George Gainsford, Robinson's manager, said he is willing to fulfill obligations to the Callahan A. C. He said Robinson can reschedule coming fights with Ted Olla in Milwaukee and Johnny Lombardo in Cincinnati and meet Small in Boston.

But Silverman said he wants Robinson suspended. He figures his losses on the cancellation at $3,000 for advance promotion and arrangements, a $500 advance to Small for expenses and an advance to Robinson.

Allentown Swim Team Places Third

LANCASTER, March 6 (P)—York High School swimmers set one record and won five events yesterday in winning their 12th Eastern Regional PIAA swimming championship.

York had a total of 75 points in the nine events. Coatesville had 39, Allentown 34½, Norristown 26, Lancaster 15½, Abington 15, Scranton Central 13, Cheltenham 9, Bethlehem 7½, Scranton West and Hazleton 4 each, Hershey 3 and Reading 1.

ESSTC Bombs West Chester Quintet

Palaiaimen Gain Ninth Straight Nod

A VICTORY minded East Stroudsburg State Teachers College basketball squad battled to its ninth straight and 11th victory of the season in the Normal Hill gymnasium Saturday night by taking the measure of West Chester, 82-72, before one of the largest crowds of the current campaign.

ESSTC, currently in the midst of one of its most successful seasons in history, dealt the Rams their 12th loss in 22 outings and their fourth in seven Pennsylvania State Teachers College contests. The Warriors now boast a record of 11 wins and five defeats, including the first three games of the season. The Normal Hill cagers have a 5-2 record in conference play.

The Warriors, not quite as torrid in the shooting department as they have been in recent contests, had more than enough to down a West Chester club who holds a decision over Lebanon Valley. Lebanon Valley in turn defeated Temple and Muhlenberg in the same week.

ESSTC's attack sputtered on several occasions, but the seven mechanics who saw action for the home standing contingent always found the trouble in time and marched to victory under the guidance of Coach Jerry Palaia, the master mechanic.

Both teams started slowly, much like two boxers feeling out the opposition, and then suddenly began racing up and down the court with Charley Gorman, the much talked about freshman, leading the home team, and Little Jim "June" Rich playing brilliantly for the invading Rams.

ESSTC raked up a 22-14 lead in the first period, but the Warriors played without German much of the second round and had to battle desperately to hold a 40-38 advantage at the halfway mark.

West Chester had much the better of the going in the second round, 24-18, thanks to the brilliant shooting of Rich.

The West Chester star, who finished the contest with 31 points on 10 goals from the floor and 11 from the foul line, switched seven double-doubles in the second stanza, but was held to a pair of goals from the floor in the entire second half.

German was forced out of action early in the second stanza when he re-injured his left foot and was noticeably bothered by the injury the remainder of the distance, although he returned to the wars late in the second round.

Wilmont Smith and Walt "Moose" Bjorn picked up the slack caused by German's injury and sparked the Warriors to victory, although West Chester tied the score at 42-42 early in the third stanza and wasn't more than four points off the pace until ESSTC tallied six quick points at the end of the period.

Bjorn, who scored 12 of his 14 points in the second half, drew down three straight rebounds late in the third stanza and fed down-court passes that resulted in three quick field goals and a 62-54 lead at the three quarter mark.

Smith's driving field goals, Bjorn's brilliant work on the boards and steady play by George Heidenreich, fast moving Ray Kaseman, Nick Gatto and Denny Sullivan stopped the Rams in their tracks during the last 10 minutes of play.

ESSTC had the better of the third period scoring, 22-16, and made certain of victory with a 29-18 advantage in the last quarter.

German led the Warriors in scoring with 24 points, bringing his season's total to 358 points. Smith was next in line with 18. German captured 12 rebounds, but Bjorn led in this department with 13, nine off the defensive board and four off the offensive backboard.

The Warriors enjoyed a 28-24 advantage in field goals and made good on 26 of 42 charity heaves. West Chester remained in the thick of the battle by converting 24 of 34 free throws.

Major League Clubs Launch Second Week Of Training Grind With Mixed Views On Players

By The Associated Press

PHOENIX, March 6 (P)—Home runs by Willie Mays and Whitey Lockman led the New York Giants regulars to a 9-3 victory over the rookies in an intra-squad game before a crowd of 6,000 in sunny, 80-degree weather today.

Both blows came in the first inning at the expense of Sal "The Barber" Maglie, who worked one full inning in his first appearance of 1955. Lockman's was an inside-the-park drive to centerfield, but Mays' blow was a lusty 400-foot poke that cleared the fence in left center.

Maglie was one of six pitchers trotted out by Manager Leo Durocher during the six and one-half inning game. Johnny Antonelli, Larry Jansen, Don Liddle, "Windy" McCall and rookie Jim Constance also worked.

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 6 (P)—The hitting of Don Hoak and pitching of Ed Roebuck featured a Brooklyn Dodgers intra-camp game today.

Hoak, playing despite the loss of a big toe nail only three days ago, slammed out a long triple and a single. Roebuck, 18-14 at Montreal last year and fresh from the Cuban League, allowed no hits and struck out five batters in two innings.

"Chico" Fernandez and Charlie Neal, shortstop and second base candidates, respectively, impressed a crowd of 2,000 with their fancy fielding in addition to hitting a double each.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 6 (P)—For the first time in history, the New York Yankees are burdened with two bonus players who must be carried all season. These youngsters, Frank Leja and Tom Carroll, pose a personnel problem for manager Casey Stengel.

"I'm going to play them early in the exhibition schedule as much as I can," he said today. "I gotta find out if they can be of any help. I hope they can hit big league here, too. I wish there were more games to play. This spring, I could use about 200 games. I have to find out who's gonna make this ball club."

Leja, 19, is a lefty first baseman who sat on the bench all last season after being given a $45,000 bonus after starring in high school and sandlot ball at Holyoke, Mass. Carroll is an 18-year-old shortstop who recently was signed off the Notre Dame campus for a bonus of $40,000.

Two College Cage Races Still In Doubt

By BEN OLAN

The Associated Press

THE LAST big weekend of the college basketball season produced five conference champions and several upsets, but it left the winners of two league races still undecided.

By dint of their own efforts Saturday night, Kentucky wrapped up the Southeastern Conference title, West Virginia won the Southern Conference crown, Oregon State the Pacific Coast Conference title and North Carolina State took Atlantic Coast Conference honors. Idaho Iowa was returned the Big Ten winner when Wisconsin drubbed runnerup Minnesota.

Except for North Carolina State, which is ineligible to play in the NCAA tournament, the four other titleholders qualified for the 24-team scramble which gets underway tomorrow in New York, San Francisco, Oklahoma City and Lexington, Ky.

West Texas State also gained a berth in the big tournament when it won the flip of a coin from Texas Western. The teams finished in a 9-3 deadlock in the Border Conference race.

It will take an extension of the regular schedule, however, to decide the Ivy and Missouri Valley titleholders.

Pennsylvania, the Ivy League leader most of the season, was knocked off by Princeton while Columbia whipped Brown. That left Penn and Columbia tied with 10-4 records and Princeton with 9-4. The Quakers and Lions will meet in a playoff game tonight and should Princeton beat Brown in its remaining game tonight, the Tigers will play the Columbia-Penn winner Wednesday for the championship.

Victories by St. Louis and Tulsa Saturday night also left the Mo. Valley race in a flat-footed tie. This one will be decided in a single playoff game. The winner gets the automatic NCAA spot and the loser moves into the National Invitation Tournament which starts in New York next Saturday.

Kentucky combined a torrid shooting attack and a terrific job on the boards by Bob Burrow and Jerry Bird to crush Tennessee, 104-61 for its 22nd victory against two losses.

West Virginia had to go into overtime to trip George Washington, 58-48. Rod Hundley, who wound up with 30 points, personally beat the defending champion Colonials by scoring five straight points in the extra session.

Oregon State came from behind in the second half to defeat UCLA for the second straight time in their best-of-three playoffs. Swede Holbrook, a mere 7-3, had 30 points for State, who finished on top, 83-64.

North Carolina State also had to come on with a second half rush to whip Duke 87-77. Because of NC State's ineligibility, Duke will represent the conference in the NCAA.

Wisconsin's Dick Miller, with 27 points, blasted Minnesota's hopes as the Badgers took a 78-72 decision. Iowa, the benefactor of Wisconsin's surprising performance, thus won its first Big Ten title since 1945.

Princeton had a rather easy time of it against Penn, winning 69-47. Columbia poured it on in the final 20 minutes to nip Brown 75-68.

Tulsa solved Wichita's tough zone defense for a 77-62 victory and St. Louis, led by Dick Boushka's 28 points, smashed Oklahoma A&M, 71-59. Both winners finished with 8-2 marks in conference play.

In another game, Notre Dame snapped Marquette's 22 game winning streak, 85-64, with Jack Stephens of the Irish doing most of the damage with 35 points.

Warriors Complete Swimming Season On Winning Note, 47-37

GARDEN CITY, L. I.—East Stroudsburg State Teachers College finished its swimming season on a winning note Saturday afternoon with a 47-37 decision over Adelphi College, here in the latter's pool.

The win enabled the Warriors to even their final record at two victories and a similar number of setbacks. The victories have been over Brooklyn Poly and Adelphi, while the defeats were at the hands of Cortland Teachers and Long Island University.

ESSTC ran up its winning margin by finishing first in six of Saturday's 10 events and earning enough second and third place points to allow for Adelphi's two first places.

Dick Folmer finished the season undefeated in the 100-yard freestyle event as the sophomore sensation covered the distance in 56.6 seconds.

One new pool record was set when Carl Spitzner, Adelphi, won the 200-yard backstroke in 2:20.8.

John Blachek and Roy Snyder won two events each for the visiting ESSTC charges of Coach Frank Grimm.

John Snyder and Folmer will enter the Eastern Intercollegiate Invitation Swimming Meet at Yale, on March 17, 18 and 19. Both will swim the 100-yard event, while Snyder takes part in the breaststroke and possibly the 50-yard freestyle.

Summary follows:
200 Yard Medley Relay—Spitzner, Folmer, Snyder, Snyder for ESSTC; Casazza, Snyder, Snyder, Snyder for Adelphi (5:20.3).

Pharmacy Decisions Dinermen

POCONO PINES — Williams' Pharmacy overcame a first period deficit here last night to earn a 72-65 verdict over Johnson's Diner in the first of two Pocono Mountains Basketball League games played here at Tobyhanna Township High School.

The Dinermen fought to a 10-8 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Williams' club held a 26-20 edge in the second period and were in front at halftime, 34-30.

The host contingent went on to make certain of victory by piling up an 18-16 edge in the third round and a 20-19 bulge during the last stanza.

Williams' Pharmacy had the better of the field goal department, 34-31, and made good on four of six foul shots. Johnson's Diner found the range on only three of seven attempts.

Jim "Cocky" Wilson and Tom Carroll paced the winning attack with 18 and 16 markers, respectively, while Harry Warner and Sharon "Oll" Peechatka won the losing offense with 22 and 21 tallies each.

Shriners Take Thirty-Six To Circus

THIRTY-SIX underprivileged children were the guests of the Pocono Shrine Club Saturday for the Irem Temple sixth annual Circus at Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

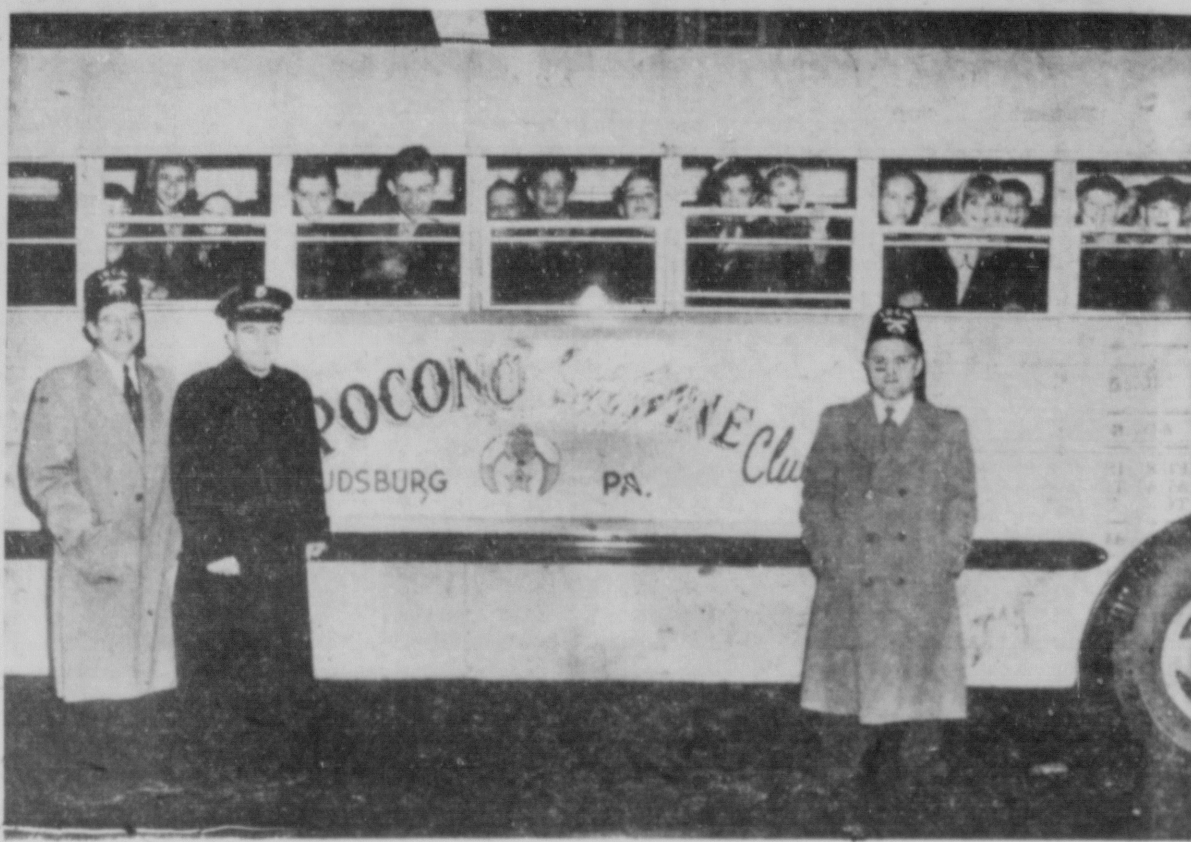

The Shrine Circus is produced by Polack Brothers for the uniformed units of Irem Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

All profits from the four day show are forwarded to the Crippled Children's Hospital Fund reported as the greatest humanitarian effort the world has ever known.

Seventeen hospitals are operated throughout the Western Hemisphere for free treatment of crippled children.

Arrangements for transportation and reserved seats were made by a committee of local Shriners. George Miller acted as chairman. Others working on the committee were Nelson Westbrook, Floyd De Haven and A. Byrd McDowell.

Capt. Charles Baker of the local Salvation Army invited the boys and girls to meet at the East Stroudsburg Army headquarters for transportation to Wilkes-Barre.

OFF TO THE CIRCUS BY BUS Saturday morning at 9 were 36 children from this area. Chaperones for trip were Donald Robbins, Pocono Shrine secretary; Capt. Charles Baker, Salvation Army Citadel chief and George A. Miller, committee chairman for the Shriners. Circus was sponsored by Irem Temple, Wilkes-Barre. Local children were sent by Pocono Shrine.

WVPO Ready For National Defense Emergency Plan For Broadcasting Alerts

RADIO STATION WVPO has announced that it is now prepared to take part in a national emergency defense information plan.

Called the "Conelrad" plan, the system allows AM radio stations to stay on the air during alerts or attacks. The stations are supposed to transmit Civil Defense information to the public in such a manner that enemy aircraft will not be aided in a search for their targets.

In the event of an enemy attack, WVPO spokesmen said, "all AM, FM and TV stations will go off the air. FM and TV stations will remain silent indefinitely."

Those AM stations which are equipped will change to either 640 or 1240 kilocycles (the number on your dial) and begin broadcasting defense information.

In large cities the broadcast will be continuous. In communities the size of The Stroudsburgs, broadcasts will be heard on an intermittent schedule so that the station may be heard 15 to 30 seconds, then will be silent from two to five minutes.

In case of an alert, a WVPO spokesman said, "everyone should immediately tune to either 640 or 1240 kilocycles, which ever hap-

Analomink Wooddale

Mrs. Max Hess
Phone 1415-R-1

The executive committee of the Analomink PTA met Thursday night and plans were made for a baked ham supper to be held Saturday, March 12 in the POS of A Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Van Pelt entertained Mr. Van Pelt's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Van Pelt and children, Bobby and Carol of Pineville, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Illppler of Mountaintop visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lesonne Sunday. Other visitors were Robert Van Vliet of Marshalls Creek and Mrs. Robert Decker of Franklin Hills.

The naup of Mrs. Roland Miller was omitted from the group who met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bush to organize the Kozzy Klub. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Pennell Thursday night, March 10.

Mrs. Ernest Cramer spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Shamp Sr. in Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Harry S. Fox returned home Thursday after spending over two weeks at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert White, recovering from a foot injury. Mrs. Fox still needs support in walking.

Over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cramer entertained their granddaughter, Miss Jeannette Cramer a student at the E. S. S. Teachers College and two class mates, Miss Phyllis Morris and Miss Barbara Sheulin, both of Taylor, Pa.

Rev. Ralph H. Feltham, pastor of the Analomink, Wooddale, Mt. Zion and Cherry Lane churches is recovering from his recent illness. His son Justin Feltham has conducted the services during Rev. Feltham's absence.

Emmy Hits Big Time Tonight

HOLLYWOOD, March 6 (AP) — Emmy hits the big time tomorrow night when the seventh annual awards of the Television Academy will be seen on national TV for the first time.

Emmy is the female and more modern counterpart of Oscar. She's a sexy babe with wings on her back and an electronic symbol in her outstretched arms. Emmy's backers hope that some day her fame will rival that of the stolid, 27-year-old Oscar.

Tomorrow night the Emmies will be presented to the top TV shows and performers in 21 categories over the NBC network, from 11:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. EST. The show will emanate from the Moulin Rouge here and from Larue supper club in New York. Steve Allen will be in charge of events here, Dave Garroway in New York.

The TV academy has striven to avoid the pitfalls of the Oscar event. One of these is absenteeism by nominees.

Most of the nominees are slated to attend. Defore said that Jackie Gleason had postponed a vacation for two days in order to be at the New York end of the event.

Among the few who will not be present: Groucho Marx, vacationing in the West Indies; Tony Martin, on a night club date in Florida; Perry Como, vacationing in Palm Springs; Ethel Barrymore, who is not well enough to appear.

Youth Held For Slaying Grandmother

PITTSBURGH, March 6 (P)—Eyes of William Wright, 16-year-old inmate of a state correctional institution, today stood charged with murder in the brutal hammer slaying of his elderly grandmother.

The youth, described as brilliant, calmly admitted killing Mrs. Evelyn Leonard Thomas in her Pittsburgh home last Jan. 26, police said.

Homicide detectives arrested Wright yesterday at George Junior Republic, Grove City, Pa., correctional school. He was taken to Pittsburgh and lodged in jail pending a coroner's inquest.

Adam Geisler, assistant superintendent of Pittsburgh police, said Wright told him in an oral statement that he bludgeoned the 68-year-old widow to death during an eight-hour absence from the school.

Geisler said the boy showed little emotion but replied when asked how he felt about the slaying: "I feel pretty bad—I'll tell you that."

The police official said Wright, whose home is in Collingdale, a suburb of Philadelphia, hadn't seen his great-aunt since he was nine.

Authorities at George Junior Republic said Wright has an I. Q. of 134, well above average. They said he was committed last June 4 by the Delaware County Juvenile Court for theft and running away from home.

Geisler said Wright was questioned on the basis of information supplied by the youth's father, Robert.

The boy's parents, who learned of the slaying only a week ago, noted that it occurred the same day he was absent from the school.

The elder Wright went to the district attorney in Delaware County and told him of the coincidence. Pittsburgh police were notified and homicide detectives visited the school to question young Wright.

After brief interrogation, Wright admitted the slaying, Geisler said. The police official said Wright told this story:

He walked out of the school Jan. 26 and made his way to Pittsburgh to the home of Mrs. Thomas to "seek help."

Mrs. Thomas "persistently urged" Wright to return to the school. When he refused, she started for the phone to call his mother.

Wright picked up a hammer and struck her repeatedly on the head. Mrs. Thomas had gotten the hammer from the basement earlier at the request of Wright who said he wanted to "fix a nail in his shoe."

The youth ransacked the house, finding $3, and then set fire to some newspapers he had crumpled near the body.

He phoned the school that he wanted to go back. School authorities notified Pittsburgh police and Wright was returned.

The fire ate through the dining room floor before firemen arrived and put it out. They found the body.

Peace Talks Opened On PRR Strike

NEW YORK, March 6 (P)—The National (Railway) Mediation Board opens peace talks tomorrow between the Pennsylvania Railroad and the CIO Transport Workers Union.

The union has called off a walk-out of some 20,000 railroad maintenance men, originally set for midnight tonight in protest against economy layoffs of 12,000 workers by the railroad.

A telegram sent by the union last week to mediation board Chairman Francis A. O'Neill said in part "out of respect for your board, the TWU has decided to lift the strike deadline and union representatives are ready to meet with your mediator at once."

The railroad previously had accepted the board's offer to seek a settlement of the dispute.

Accidents took 91,000 U. S. lives in 1954.

Leader Names Three Women To State Board Of Censors

HARRISBURG, March 6 (P)—Gov. George M. Leader today announced appointment of a complete three-member State Board of Censors to replace the present Republican board.

The governor said he would send to the Senate tomorrow for confirmation the nomination to the board of Mrs. Louise Moses John, West Chester; Mrs. Helen K. Massock, Washington, Pa., and Mrs. Clara Stevenson Black, Harrisburg.

The new Democratic board, like its Republican predecessor, will be composed entirely of women. The members will replace Mrs. Edna R. Carroll, Philadelphia, chairman; Mrs. Jewel M. Frank, Pittsburgh, vice chairman and Mrs. Beatrice Z. Miller, Philadelphia, secretary.

Mrs. John is slated to become chairman of the new board at a salary of $6,000 a year. The other two members draw $5,000. The terms of the new board members would extend until January, 1959.

The board was established in 1915 to disapprove all films, reels or views that are deemed sacrilegious, obscene, indecent, or immoral, or tend, in the judgement of the board, to debase or corrupt morals.

Jeddo-Highland Old Co.'s 'blue' COAL
Lehigh Valley-Hazleton SILVER CREEK FREE BURNING CITY COAL CO. PHONE 1234

Mrs. John has been active in Chester County civic and Democratic activities. During Leader's campaign she served as assistant to Ruth Grigg Horting, vice chairman of the Democratic State Committee, and to James A. Finnegan, state registration chairman. Mrs. Horting now is secretary of public assistance and Finnegan is secretary of the commonwealth.

Mrs. Black, is the wife of Ramsey S. Black, Harrisburg, former state treasurer and former third assistant postmaster general. She is a former president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Democratic Women. During Leader's campaign she was chairman of the federation's television and radio fund-raising drive.

Mrs. Massock is wife of Atty. Vincent R. Massock, Washington. Since 1953 she has been president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Democratic Women.

The office of Dr. Thomas I. Metzgar will be closed from March 7 to 11th.—Adv.
